Senate Action May Salvage Battered OPA Measure

House OPA Bill May Be Altered By Senate Action

Senate Banking Committee Members To Take Up Battered Measure

SOME REVISIONS ARE INDICATED

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—Senate banking committee members indicated today they would salvage what they called something "sensible" from the house-battered OPA bill but there were clear signs of trouble ahead on the senate floor.

The strength and scope of the house attack upon price control made administration leaders more determined than ever to wind up this session of congress as speedily as possible.

Their goal now is mid-July. By that time the senate plans to pass all pending appropriation bills, the draft and OPA extensions, and approve the British loan. House spokesmen see little hope of getting the British loan through that body before congress quits. Some fear a vote before the elections might result in the loan's rejection.

Goos Too Far

For administration leaders fighting to preserve price controls the only bright spot in the legislative picture was the judgment of leading senate Republicans that the house had gone "too far."

This was the situation in the upper chamber despite the warning by OPA Chief Paul Porter that the house bill would remove the ceilings from "commodities making up at least half the cost of living."

Sen. Taft (R, Ohio), a member of the banking committee, said he believed the house amendment guaranteeing costs plus a "reasonable profit" on every commodity "goes too far and should be toned down."

Amendments Planned

Sen. Wherry (R, Neb.), said he had four amendments to offer to the OPA extension bill. They would:

1. Eliminate the OPA's policy of fixing maximum average prices.
2. Write in the cost-plus-profit guarantee.
3. Provide that ceilings be removed when any commodity's annual production reaches the volume attained in fiscal 1941. This already has been done in accounting the Gossell amendment.
4. Permit price increases when subsidies are removed from any product.

Big Four Parley May Be Showdown On World Issues

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—The forthcoming meeting of the "big four" foreign ministers in Paris promised today to become an all out showdown on current international crises.

Officially there has been no admission of a widening of the agenda which was to consider only the final drafts of peace treaties for Italy, Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Byrnes Gives Indication

Secretary of State Byrnes has given the only indication that the foreign ministers may widen their talks. He did so by agreeing with the French to discuss the internationalization of the Ruhr and Rhineland provided agreements were first reached on the peace treaties.

This move was regarded as astute by observers in Washington since considerable doubt existed that an agreement on the treaties can be reached. It also was expected to persuade France to back up the position of the United States at a time when internal French politics are dominated by the Communists.

While Byrnes only assented to consideration of the Ruhr and Rhineland, he also agreed to discuss the French to discuss the internationalization of the Ruhr and Rhineland provided agreements were first reached on the peace treaties.

Indications over the Easter weekend, while the council is in recess, were that Soviet Russia would be voted down, 8 to 3, and the case would remain on the agenda.

The big question mark then was what Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko would do. When the Iranian complaint first came up, he walked out and stayed out of the council for 13 days.

Another "walk" next week would be a far more serious blow to international relations, but observers generally doubted Gromyko would take it. This was largely due to the fact that the question of a collective severance of relations with Fascist Spain still has a fight pending in that connection.

Gromyko obtained an agreement from the council, when it adjourned last night over the Easter period, that the Russian-Iranian case would be the first order of business next week.

MILK DELIVERY ORDER MAY BE MODIFIED SOON

HARRISBURG, April 19.—(INS)—The state milk control commission planned today to determine Wednesday whether restricted milk deliveries to consumers should be continued after April 30.

Chairman H. N. Cobb said the decision would be made following a meeting with representatives of dealers, plant employees and producers to discuss a tentative order which he said would be drafted over the week-end.

"The orders will be subject to change," he emphasized. "We will see whether the parties concerned approve them before definite action is taken."

Cobb's statement followed a public hearing at the state capitol during which Willis Daniels, Harrisburg attorney representing more than 200 milk dealers in eastern Pennsylvania, asked the commission to ignore OPA price ceilings when fixing producer-consumer costs.

Consideration Of British Loan May Meet With Delay

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—A move to sidetrack the British loan in favor of domestic legislation shaped up today in the senate.

Sen. Ellender (D, Ala.), foe of the loan, said he would support a postponement motion, and he might offer it himself.

Ellender and Sen. Murdock (D, Utah), who also has proposed delay were conferring with other critics of the three and three-quarter billion dollar loan on the postponement issue.

The Louisiana senator asserted it would take at least a month to dispose of all the expected amendments and get to a final vote on the loan agreement.

Ranks Of Unemployed Are Swelled By Failure To End Coal Strike

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—(INS)—The nation-wide bituminous coal strike today cut deeper into allied industries, closed plants and steel mills and swelled the ranks of the unemployed to nearly 65,000 men.

A Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation spokesman said further unemployment will result next week when production in western Pennsylvania alone is cut to 25 per cent of capacity.

At present about 16,000 mill hands are idle in Pittsburgh. Another 12,000 were thrown out of work at the corporation's Gary, Ind., and South Chicago, Ill., plants.

Many Plants Hit

Steel mills in Utah, Colorado, Birmingham, Ohio, northwest Pennsylvania and West Virginia accounted for nearly 24,000 idle.

See Effort To Limit MacArthur's Power In Japan Control

TOKYO, April 19.—(INS)—Russia, China and Great Britain joined forces today in an apparent attempt to limit General MacArthur's authority over the four-power council for control of Japan.

The challenge was led by British member W. MacMahon Ball, who recommended that the council be granted power to control the amount of information presented and methods by which such information is submitted.

REPORT BIBLE SUPPLY SOLD OUT AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—(INS)—The Holy Bible—the world's best seller—was a complete sellout this Good Friday in Pittsburgh.

Although 350,000 copies have been published since production began a few weeks ago, publishers report it has been impossible to fill orders.

Will Seek Facts On Distribution UNRRA Food

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—Rep. Anderson (R, Minn.), said today that Congress has received "many reports" of maladministration by UNRRA in food distribution as it appeared probable that former President Herbert Hoover will be questioned on food conditions overseas.

Hoover, who has been summoned from his European tour by President Truman, may be asked to testify upon his return by the House committee on agriculture and the special House food investigating group.

Rep. Flannagan (D, Va.), agriculture committee chairman, said: "I rather think we will ask him to appear before our committee after he returns."

Anderson ranking minority member of the special food investigating committee, said his group may also question Hoover for additional details after he reports to the White House.

Soviets Declare Spain Disturbing Efforts For Peace

Moscow Radio Blasts Spain For Political Disturbance In World Today

LONDON, April 19.—(INS)—The Moscow radio charged today that Franco Spain was disturbing the whole political atmosphere of post-war Europe and directing many Fascist organizations in Latin America.

The radio broadcast an article by Soviet Publicist Dr. Lenin who declared:

"Tens of thousands of Nazi war criminals have taken cover in Spain and monopolies capital has infiltrated every branch of Spanish economic life."

"German engineers are working on atomic energy experiments and preparing weapons for a war of retaliation."

"Can there be any doubt that this Fascist regime is endangering world security?"

"To have the Spanish question settled in the interests of the democracies and is essential to the security of the postwar world."

YOUTH, PASSENGER AUTO CRASH VICTIMS

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—(INS)—A 17-year-old driver of a stolen car and a petty thief who was getting a lift died today when the vehicle careened out of control off a highway at 70 miles per hour and crashed into a trolley pole in Willow Grove.

Another passenger, Pfc. William H. Smith, 18, of 6613 Lamekin Pike, Philadelphia, suffered a broken left leg, and head and internal injuries.

Full Inquiry Into Charges Against Spain Is Likely

Security Council May Investigate Charges Of War Plants Of Nazis In Spain

NEW YORK, April 19.—(INS)—A full inquiry into charges that Fascist Spain is harboring a new war plant, manned by refugee Nazi scientists, manufacturers and financiers, appeared likely today by the United Nations Security Council.

Mounting accusations of Soviet Russia, Poland, France and Mexico that Generalissimo Francisco Franco was permitting Spain to be the proving ground of secret Axis experiments for new weapons of war—including atomic energy—seemingly had shaken the United States and Great Britain in their determination to drop the Spanish issue from the Security Council's agenda.

U. S. May Agree

In particular it was understood that the United States might reverse itself and agree to a closer scrutiny of activities within the borders of Fascist Spain—provided concrete evidence could be produced that under-cover preparations for another war were being turned out there.

Australia had offered the compromise proposal which would make this possible. Lt. Col. William Roy Hodgson, speaking for the continent "down under," placed before the Security Council last yesterday a suggestion that a sub-committee of five be appointed to determine all of the facts and report back on May 17.

This was a compromise between the British resolution calling upon all major powers to break off diplomatic relations with Spain.

Battle Raging For Changchun

Communist Forces Seek To Gain Control Of Capital Of Manchuria

CHUNGKING, April 19.—(INS)—Changchun's outnumbered garrison fought communist forces today in a last-stand battle to hold the city until national reinforcements can be brought in from the south.

A China Central News agency dispatch from Mukden said casualties were heavy among the nationalist troops in Changchun and added that government troops held only two strong points in the city.

The Manchurian capital was reported under heavy shellfire from communist artillery. Incendiaries were being used and several fires were started.

Spearheaded By Tanks

A government dispatch said the communist attack was spearheaded by medium tanks and that the nationalist defenders were driven to positions in the center of the city sandbagged and barricaded for a final stand.

Latest details of the desperate battle were hours old and government troops used and several fires were started.

Arthur Mometer

You may think you're right, and perhaps you are, the meter was wrong where you parked your car, or the light was green, and they said red, or charged you with running out too soon ahead. But when words arise and your dander, too, and you're ready to tell someone what to do, take a breath and, my friend, the words will stop, for it never pays to fight with a cop. No matter his size or color of hair, or whether he's dark or whether he's fair, you just can't win, so it seems to me don't fight with a cop. (weather's sixty-three.)

According to the complaint, Donovan and Corcoran, 58, and the latter's son, David Jr., a discharged air corps officer, left a cab and huddled on a sidewalk for a few minutes. Suddenly the elder Corcoran fell to the pavement.

The policemen went to Corcoran's aid, and when they found him badly injured called an ambulance.

Donovan and young Corcoran were taken to a police station for questioning.

Drawing attention to the fact that the council was set up only as a consultative and advisory body, Whitney declared that it was not the purpose of the council to pry into the affairs of the Supreme Allied commander to create "international sensationalism."

Ball asked: "Does that mean that MacArthur and not the council will determine how the council will conduct its own business?"

Whitney replied that it meant there should be "no muzzling or closure."

Council In Recess
The Security Council was in recess over the holy weekend—although not exactly in the spirit of Easter— and will not meet again until next Tuesday.

This, however, did not prevent a series of diplomatic huddles, both in New York and in Washington, to resolve the differences within the council's membership.

Best information available today was that the American delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., generally was disposed to accept the Australian proposal setting up a five-man sub-committee to look into the charges that Franco Spain is menacing world peace and security.

HOOVER WILL TELL OF FOOD PROBLEMS FOUND OVERSEAS

over all the American networks. He will sum up the results of his flying survey of famine conditions on the European continent.

Not To Return Home
The ex-president received Truman's suggestion he return home to report while completing the text of his broadcast. Dennis Fitzgerald, an adviser, said Hoover would continue his inspection tour instead of returning immediately to the United States. The President's message was interpreted as a suggestion, but not a command, and Hoover decided to continue to Karachi, India. Next he will visit China.

However, Hoover feels that no time should be lost in calling the attention of the American people to the food situation in Europe.

He will emphasize the urgent necessity for quick shipment of wheat and fats supplies to countries like Poland, Czechoslovakia, Finland and Greece to avert starvation before the next harvest.

Not U. S. Problem Alone
He will make clear that the burden of relief should not fall entirely upon the United States but that other countries, especially some European nations, should cooperate in saving people from starvation.

At the same time, Hoover will strike out sharply at the general lack of foresight and coordination among European nations in meeting the food shortage.

It is understood that he is thoroughly disgusted with what he considers to be the disgraceful inefficiency of the governments of most hungry nations in handling the problems of their respective countries.

Hoover feels that the little food available in some countries, especially Poland, Yugoslavia and Greece, is being distributed unfairly and that much of it lands on the black markets.

Hoover's report will include recommendations for the future. He will warn that if a grave situation is to be avoided next winter, not only European but worldwide measures must be taken immediately to create an efficient international organization to handle the problem.

were expected to cause wholesale layoffs within a week when steel making plants are completely shut down and roller mills are inoperative for a lack of raw steel.

The Clairton, Pa., coke plant of Carnegie-Illinois is operating at only 25 per cent of capacity, and had only a two weeks supply of coal on hand, which the spokesman said must be conserved to start immediate operations once the coal strike is settled.

Operators Leave
In Washington chances of reaching an immediate settlement of the strike worsened. The soft coal mine operators announced they were leaving for their homes because they saw no hope of coming to terms with John L. Lewis.

The job of reopening negotiations between the operators and the mine workers' chief apparently was left to Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach.

Fabricating plants and small steel dependent firms, many of whom have not recovered from the steel strike, were hard hit—not by a coal shortage but for a lack of steel.

PARLEYS FAIL AS OHIO MATCHWORKERS LEAVE THEIR JOBS
AKRON, O., April 19.—(INS)—Negotiations to avert the spread of a matchworkers' strike which has closed two Ohio plants today remained stalemated.

Machinists affiliated with the AFL-National Matchworkers' council maintained picket lines around the Diamond Match Company plant in suburban Barberton and matchworkers refused to cross the lines.

In nearby Wadsworth, approximately 1,000 employees of the Ohio Match Company left their jobs at 12:01 a. m. yesterday when the Diamond Workers struck, to bring the total number idle to 2,000.

The union is demanding an 18 1/2 cents hourly wage increase. The company has offered a 15-cent boost.

Good Friday

All the Christian world bows its head in reverent memory on Good Friday as it recalls the tragic fate of One Who sought to better the world. It is an apparent paradox that He Who came to save the world, to make it a better place for all men to live in, had to die on the Cross.

The understandable gloom into which the Redeemer's few faithful followers were cast at the end of the three hours on Calvary has never been so intense since the day of the monumental tragedy, for the world now knows that the bleak despair of Good Friday gives way to the magnificent effulgence of the hope and joy of Easter, when the Son of God rose from the sepulcher. As times goes by, the suffering of Good Friday is all but forgotten until man again slips into his former ways and the march of events that lead to Calvary is again set in motion.

Good Friday, then, is the time to meditate on past mistakes and determine that their repetition shall be avoided. If man determines to model his life firmly on the virtues of faith and hope and charity, the continual procession of earthly Calvaries will not be necessary. Man will then have arrived at that state for which Christ suffered and died on the Cross—that man might be truly free.

His Task Begins Again

There is discouraging evidence that the program for peace between the Chinese central government and the Chinese communists has broken down in Manchuria. Truce terms have failed to prevent open fighting.

According to Gen. Chou En-lai, chief of the communist delegation in Chungking, the communists cannot recognize the right of government troops to drive communists out of places they occupied following the withdrawal of Russian forces. He admitted his statement implied that the battle for Manchuria is on.

"The government wants to fight a civil war in Manchuria," said Chou, "so the communists must fight in self-defense. It is clear who is responsible."

Maybe it is to him, but it isn't so clear to others. It isn't clear why there should be fighting at all. The occupation of Manchurian cities by government forces was arranged by agreement with the withdrawing Russians. The communists do not figure in it officially.

Furthermore, if civil war gets fully under way in Manchuria, it can easily spread to other parts of China and ruin all efforts to establish a unified government of China with all political parties eligible to take part in it under a representative constitution.

Both communists and government leaders admit that only through peace can China attain a semblance of prosperity. Through the counsel and assistance of Gen. George C. Marshall considerable progress was made toward consolidating and reducing Chinese military forces and including communists in the government itself.

The trouble in Manchuria has halted such efforts. It started after General Marshall left China to report to President Truman. If General Marshall could bring about a truce in the first place, it is reasonable to suppose he can bring about its establishment.

Safe At Home

Sports pages during the springtime formerly were filled with happy accounts of baseball in the Florida sunshine, these stories being wired back by reporters who were the envy of pale cityroom colleagues who had to stay home and shiver. Today, however, baseball's Boswells are in a froth over the Mexicans.

And by Mexicans they mean those Pasquel boys who are standing down on the Rio Grande—in fact, astraddle it—and waving large fistfuls of money in hopes of inducing 300 hitters and no-hit, no-run pitchers to go South, senior South of the border, that it.

As paid-up members in a nation that has won a world-wide reputation for handling legal tender as if it were confetti, it gives American fans quite a shock to find there are others who do not mind lighting their cigars with $100 bills. All over the world, "foreigners" have complained of the free-spending Yankee tourist and the effect of his blithe spirit on local prices. This fear of economic upset was one which the lonely American GI, far from home with a pocketful of payday money, seldom did anything to allay.

Now the tables are turned. Or so it would appear if those Mexican offers are what they seem to be and not what some observers and team presidents have said there are. Incensed, naturally, that players who have signed contracts break them and head southward, club owners also are finding it a bitter international pill. It's carrying lend-lease a bit too far.

America gladly extends the hand across the border, but switch hitters, the nylon stocking and hot dog with mustard are not included in the bargain.

Add Ho Hum Items: A magazine writer says the French have cooled amazingly toward Americans, whom they accuse of not sending relief fast enough.

Scientists insist food should be made from wood, and the food outlook is such that it may be necessary to have a piece of the spare room roasted for Sunday dinner next winter.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

Kindly turn the pages for funny stuff. I have my serious moments.

What I wanted to say was . . . did anybody detect any particular signs of reverence among the statesmen of the world in this holy week-passover week?

Here is a period in which the little people acknowledge the greatness and the wonders of God.

Here is a period when most men are brought to the realization . . . and accept it willingly . . . that without God they are nothing.

But that numbness doesn't show anywhere in the minutes of the Security Council.

The old mistakes survive . . . the statesmen still talk and argue in terms of their narrow man-made geographical boundaries.

They are still unwilling or still too short-sighted to see . . . no nations . . . but the one world God created . . . and men divided.

Thanks for listening.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Bradley Showing Way To New Kind Of Victory

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two columns on Gen. Omar N. Bradley and the Veterans' Administration.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The patient, quiet-spoken director of the Veterans' Administration, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, has a big, rather old-fashioned office on the top floor of the crowded VA building. There is no fuss and feathers about Gen. Bradley and little ceremony.

On his simply cut battle jacket, he wears none of the multi-colored ribbons that he is entitled to wear. He recognized that that phase is definitely over.

Bigger Battle
This is a new and bigger battle he is engaged in, this struggle to straighten out the bureaucratic tangle involved in the business of some 15,000,000 war veterans, nearly 12,000,000 of World II. No decorations go with this job. So far it has been mostly bricksbats and head-aches.

With scarcely a pause in between, Gen. Bradley laid down the command of his army last July and took on this new assignment. He has been going hard ever since. By train and by plane, he has covered thousands of miles, working with the VA's regional directors, inspecting veterans' facilities.

Bradley is 53 years old, he looks older than that and it is small wonder, considering what he has been through in the past five years. But today he can take quiet satisfaction in the beginnings of progress in the VA.

One concrete achievement is the introduction of new methods of medical care. The objective has been to bring first-rate medical men into veterans' hospitals on a part-time basis. In the past, a deadly institutionalism kept the medical service in these hospitals at an inferior level.

Service Is Aim
Now, young doctors with the latest training are coming in to be resident physicians for a fixed period of service, a training center is being opened to coach attendants who will have charge of the thousands of mental cases, leading medical men throughout the country are responding to Gen. Bradley's appeal.

One word—service—characterizes Bradley's career. He is unspectacular, plain, without any of the firestorm of a Patton. But it is entirely possible that, in the final verdict of history, he will stand higher than many a spectacular general.

Just published is a book that tells more than anyone so far has told of Bradley's wartime struggles with the British, beginning in the early fall of 1944 and going through the Battle of the Bulge. The book is "The Secret" written by Ralph Tinsell, who was a member of Bradley's staff through most of the period after D-Day.

Bradley believed that the Germans should be given to respite. In September of 44, he was in favor of driving in through, convinced the victory was in sight if only the Germans were not given an opportunity to strengthen their shattered forces and form new lines.

Exact Opposite
His adversary was Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery. In almost every respect, Monty was the exact opposite of Bradley. He was shrewd, vain to the point of egotism, and admitted at using the pre-conference and the dramatic pronouncement to gain his way.

The British, through Montgomery, wanted to gain command over all American forces according to Luber-soll. They wanted to send the main drive into Germany by the northern route through Bremen and Hamburg.

Obscured by censorship at the time, this struggle was in a sense part of an earlier controversy. The British had fought unceasingly, in inter-Alied conferences, to channel the main drive through Italy and the Balkans. They had steadfastly resisted the cross-channel invasion of France.

More To Controversy
For many years, memoirs, documents, would shed light on this behind-scenes controversy. But the picture that emerges of Bradley—doggedly, patiently driving on in spite of the quarrels of the politicians and the political generals—is likely to stand up.

In just the same way, Bradley is going about his present job. He has already had one encounter with John Stettin of the American Legion, who made charges that seemed to have a political motivation. Bradley marshaled facts and, when the smoke cleared away, he was in possession of the field.

No one knows better than Bradley the obstacles still ahead. The progress thus far is small, measured against the enormity of the task there are still rooms chock full of unsolved mail. But the man who did so much to serve out victory in war is showing the way to another kind of victory in peace.

The State Police Say:

The blood you gave to the blood bank may have saved some wounded soldier's life; the clothing you gave in the clothing drive may have saved some less fortunate person from freezing to death; you shared your food so that others would have enough to survive; you bought war bonds and stamps and generously gave to the Red Cross and the March of Dimes; but what have you done for the protection of your neighbor at home. The traffic casualty figure is soaring at an alarming rate, but much of the suffering resulting from automobile crashes can be entirely eliminated if all of us make it a habit to practice safety on the streets and highways.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

According to a report just received from the General Hospital in Los Angeles, dishwashers are paid $144 to $171.60 a month, while resident physicians receive from $131 to $157 monthly.

A school teacher just complained to me that her pay is $35 a week, out of which she supports herself and her mother while a machine shop worker next door makes more than $75 a week for much shorter hours than she puts in and that he gets paid double for overtime, while she works at home almost every night without a penny of extra pay.

I sympathized with the lady, of course, and I sympathize with the resident physicians.

School teachers should get more money, and so should ministers and civil service employees and many others.

But there is something to that old wheeze accredited to Napoleon, that every point carries a marshal's baton in his pocket. The dishwasher will the $171 dishwasher of today be and earn in ten years from now? What can and will the $131 resident physician make in 1956?

Self-made men have become successful because of self-made opportunities.

The dishwasher of today may be a great artist, a great opera singer, a great business man in ten years from now.

Within another decade today's interne may be a famous specialist with limousine trade—or he may be a quack.

The underpaid school teacher in our village school may have risen to great heights in education or social science, the machinist next door may be a millionaire or a bum.

To some people low wages are an incentive to self-improvement to others high pay is a means to dissipation and wastefulness.

In spite of all the economic troubles of today I believe that opportunities are as good as they ever were.

There are no more bootstraps in the shoes we wear, but there are plenty of bootstraps by which to pull ourselves to a higher economical level.

In every hamlet there are opportunities for study and learning. In every organization better jobs are open to those who have prepared themselves for them.

All this may be true. But nothing becomes trite unless it is true. If Mr. Truman can't work himself up from a bankrupt haberdashery to President of the United States, there certainly is no reason for doctor, dishwasher, school teacher or minister to despair.

There are thousands of mountains with room on top.

But to reach the top you must have endurance, courage and will-power, and you must not get dizzy on the way.

The World and the Mud Puddles

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There is something contradictory in the State department announcement (forced from Secretary Byrnes by a "leak" from London) that the United States is sponsoring a program for three-power intervention in Spain. The proposal frankly demands the removal of Franco from authority and pleads recognition of an interim government, but at the same time disavows any purpose to "interfere in the domestic affairs" of Spain. What it amounts to, candidly viewed, is a bid for the people of Spain to throw Franco out of office and establish a "democratic" government. In this case, it is the Russian sense and the new government would be Communist.

Many American citizens must wonder why we should add to our existing foreign problems a program to interfere in Spain, with the almost certain result of a civil war in that country. Regardless of the Fascist threat, the Spanish government, which has been no threat against the peace of the United States by Franco. The present regime achieved control after a long and bloody war, and in the absence of any voluntary uprising on the part of the people, must be assumed to be what the people of Spain want. In any case, it is not our legitimate business to unseat Franco or to elevate some Red leader to control of the Spanish government.

The present crisis results from agitation by the French radicals who have taken over power after ousting General De Gaulle. The chances are that Soviet intrigue also is involved in the persistent agitation for a new government in Spain. It is certain that this country would not tolerate intervention in its continental affairs by any other nation. The people of the United States certainly will not relish our involvement in any scheme which in the long run may touch off another world war.

Instead of going across the Atlantic to hunt up more troubles, it would be good sense to put our own affairs in order—in other words, to mind our own business for a change.

Wonder what he dreams about, Little wide-eyed, drowsy head, Through the window staring out, Sitting, cross-legged on the bed, Stockings out halfway on.

Like a statue cut in stone, Time for dressing almost gone, Lost, he seems, in fancy's zone.

Half an hour ago we said, "Hurry! You're late for school! Hurry! tumble out of bed! Hurry! that's the morning rule!" Still his clothes are on the chair, Still he sits and looks afar, Wonder, as we watch him there, What his thoughts and visions are.

Don't remember as a lad, When I dawdled and dreamed he, Just what his thoughts and dreams had, And what fancies came to me, All I know is that I sat, As did Mother Gossie's John, Staring at the world like that— Stockings halfway off and on.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Say what are you going to plant in your garden this season . . . now don't say you are not going to have a garden. True the war is over but there seems to be a greater need for home grown foods now than during the fighting. Our garden will be something like the hash one is supposed to make each Saturday by sweeping up the left-overs of the preceding six days. One strong item . . . both in quantity and taste will be green onions . . . then comes lima beans, peas, string beans, tomatoes, egg plant for a change . . . yea and some other items that will show up . . . Our really strong suit will probably be the same as in years gone by . . . WEEDS.

Remember back in the days when we were in a position to use butter and sugar just like it was nothing . . . yea and those ideas that we published about cooking this up and that. Baking cakes and eating fruits and vegetables. Not much use in talking about those old receipts anymore . . . they either use too much sugar or butter. Now it's the guy who can cook with very little of each that makes the big hit.

In a very short time the quick freeze idea will be so common that we won't have to think too much about using great quantities of sugar in preserving food. That freeze idea is really something . . . and we are saving our pennies so that we might enjoy that luxury some day.

But now we state and for all to read and hear . . . if some one reads this to them . . . there is one form of preserving that doesn't hit us very favorably . . . That is dehydrating . . . especially potatoes, beets, carrots and cabbage. Those who had their menus made up of such items can agree with this thought without too much pondering.

However . . . if any of you have some ideas that might prove helpful to the rest of us on getting along with lowered food rations . . . send 'em in and let's see what the others think about it all.

Welcome Home Plans Progress

Pledges of financial aid were received from a number of organizations Thursday night in The Castle hotel when the general committee for the "Welcome Home" celebration on May 8 met to further plans. General Chairman Dale Lawson and Arrangements Chairman Clarence M. England were in charge of the meeting.

The estimated overall cost of the "Welcome Home" is $1400. This will include the cost of an orchestra, the rental of the Cathedral, a floor show, and sandwiches and soft drinks for the veterans and their ladies.

The "Welcome Home" is for all World War II service men and women of New Castle and the adjoining townships. The ticket of admission is the badge of honor the service men and women wear signifying their honorable discharge. The discharge button admits the veteran and his lady or in the case of a service woman, herself and male companion.

Not all organizations invited to be present at the meeting Thursday night were there, due to various meeting dates. Any organization wishing to participate in the financing of the "Welcome Home" can send checks to Ralph Audino, treasurer, care of the Greater New Castle Association.

TO HAVE CANTATA AT PLAINGROVE CHURCH

"Easter Revelation", a cantata-drama, will be presented in the Plaingrove Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Dramatic roles will be played by Lillian Martin, Paul Dight, Ruth Patterson, Dorothy Martin, Ruth

Gardner, Ed. Gardner, Mary E. McCommon, James Shaw, Donna Hammerschmidt, Harry McCommon, Annabelle Hohmann, Jean Johnson and Rotha Cunningham. Music will be furnished by the choir. The program has been prepared by the Philathea class, which has just been recently organized.

VFW To Provide Wheel Chairs For Disabled Veterans

Because of the urgent need by veterans in Lawrence county for wheel chairs and fracture beds, Neshannock Post 315, VFW, has inaugurated a plan to provide these facilities, and also is considering the placing of chairs in post rooms, theaters, the library and churches, according to an announcement made by George E. Hunt, Sr., post adjutant, following a meeting Thursday evening.

Members of the post, he announced, passed a unanimous vote of disapproval of the plans for a victory party to be held at the Cathedral next month. Explaining their decision, VFW members stated that: "when most of the world is clamoring for food, the VFW believes that the patriotic thing to do is to heed the call of President Truman and conserve food; and (2) the estimate cost of the party, $1,200, would go far towards the purchasing of needed wheel chairs, fracture beds, artificial limbs and hospital treatment, especially since the Veterans Administration facilities are full to overflowing and the V. A. is advising veterans to secure treatment in local hospitals at their own expense."

Funds needed to complete the new VFW project will be provided by the organization and by the ladies auxiliary of the VFW.

Scarcities Notwithstanding City Plans Gala Easter Day

This is an Easter to celebrate and New Castle apparently intends to do it in spite of the scarcity of Easter baskets and the skimpiness of the stock of Easter clothing.

The war is over, but the war-born scarcities are by no means gone, as everyone knows only too well. Those familiar feelings of "oh, I really shouldn't buy it" are now replaced by "gee, I wonder if I can get it" or, less frequently, "how much is it going to cost me?"

"Not that they took it easy last year," commented one salesgirl, "but this year the shoppers are really turning out in full force. They usually don't find much to buy, but they're certainly trying hard enough."

First Come, First Served

Stuffed rabbits? Almost all gone. Candy? The candy shops and counters are as crowded at noon as the buses. Even with lowly jelly beans selling at 80 cents a pound, smooth-talking shoppers are constantly trying to inveigle the clerks into selling them just one more pound.

"I'll dye my hair black so you won't recognize me when I come back again," threatens a shopper. "I'll get more jelly beans if I have to send my dog after them."

The Easter card business is becoming as profitable as the Christmas card business, also, with the gay and humorous ones making the greatest hit. Last year, religious cards were far ahead in demand, but this year it has declined noticeably. In favor of Easter-bunny and flowers-that-bloom-in-the-spring type of greeting.

Garden Variety

Easter hats, not to be outdone by the concoctions which the florists are laboring over this week, look as if they should be wrapped in cellophane and kept in the refrigerator in a hat box. They're selling like mad, probably because the ladies can't find much else to deck themselves with. What with corsages and hats most churches will look like conservatories on Sunday morning.

Church attendance incidentally, is expected to break records this year, if the sun is out and the breeze is warm. So far, the fine weather has been a big factor in the high attendance rate during the pre-Easter Sunday school campaign, but people would probably be coming out anyway. After all, this is an Easter to celebrate.

Mother Of Three Fatally Wounded

ORANGE, Mass., April 19.—(INS)—The body of Mrs. Dorothy Cutler, 31, mother of three children, was found on the floor of her living room Thursday.

Her husband, Clarence, also 31, told police that a single barrel shotgun was at her side. She had been shot in the abdomen.

Cutler said he was working in his garage across the street when "I thought I heard a window slam." He said he went to his home, found the body of his wife and notified police.

The Cutlers' three children—Virginia 9, Richard 7 and Carole 5—were not in the house at the time their mother was killed.

DEFENSE ALIBI FAILS AT TRIAL

Witness Admits She Was Told
What To Say In Her
Testimony

DETROIT, April 19. — (INS) — Frank Lobaido's alibi for the period in which seven-year-old Rosalie Giganti was attacked was shattered completely Thursday when a defense witness repudiated previous testimony.

The witness, 19-year-old Virginia Laverne, sobbed out her denial that she had visited Lobaido in his grocery store on January 27 during the time of the attack.

Miss Laverne, under cross-examination by Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien, testified that Lobaido himself had instructed her what to say on the stand. She stated the instructions were given to her in Lobaido's cell in the Wayne county jail where she said she had been taken by his brother, Anthony.

Spectator Arrested
Anthony Lobaido, a spectator as the trial opened Thursday, was arrested on suspicion on orders of the prosecutor. He is held incommunicado pending questioning.

The witness, who broke down when she was recalled to the stand after six hours of grilling last night, testified she did not see Frank from 7 p. m. on Saturday January 2 until she was taken to visit him in his cell by Anthony.

"He (Frank) told me to say that I was in the store Saturday night," Miss Laverne stated, "was intimate with him, and returned Sunday for my gloves."

She said Anthony told her to "be sure and remember this in your testimony."

Lobaido is on trial charged with the criminal assault and attempted murder of Rosalie.

Special Teachers District Group Organizes Here

Western Pennsylvania Special Education Meeting Sessions Take Place At The Castleton

At the request of Miss Dorothy Warner, state supervisor of special education of Harrisburg, a group of psychologists, supervisors and special teachers met at The Castleton on Wednesday evening. Educators from Meadville, Indiana, Grove City, Ambler, Midland, Butler, Beaver, Polk state school, Harrisburg and New Castle attended. Local representatives were Fred McLaure, Elsie Wasco and Grace L. McCabe.

Miss Jean Kuhn of Beaver Falls presided over the meeting which followed a delicious chicken dinner. The group voted to organize and hold at least four meetings a year. Miss Ethel Wenger, supervisor of special education for Butler county, was appointed chairman of a committee to make plans for the fall meeting which will be a part of the PSEA convention at New Castle on October 25. Miss Wenger chose as assistants Hannah A. Parks, supervisor of special education of Lawrence and Beaver counties; Dr. Anderson, Polk state school; Leona Playfoot, Midland special class teacher; and Grace L. McCabe, special class teacher, New Castle.

Miss Warner gave an interesting presentation of her ideas concerning the teaching of academic subjects to special class children. She especially emphasized the need for proper methods of teaching reading to the mentally handicapped.

During the evening members of the group presented their problems for discussion.

Westminster Group Will Give Concert At Highland Church

Westminster college's choir and singers will present a service of Easter music in the Highland United Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7:45, with Charles I. Sager as conductor and James W. Evans at the organ.

Music by the college group will include: "Go Not Far from Me" by Zingarelli and "Our Master Hath a Garden" by Clokey, sung by the Westminster singers; "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison" (Cantata No. 4 by Bach) sung by the choir; and Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" also by the choir.

Sunrise Service At First Methodist

A unique service is being planned at the First Methodist church with which to begin the Easter program next Sunday. There will be an Easter Sunrise Memorial service at 6:30 a.m. The service is automatic with no leader on the platform. No word is spoken after entering the church. This is to be followed by an Easter breakfast sponsored by the Young People's department of the Sunday school.

Easter programs will feature all departments of the Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. The main worship service of the day will be at 10:45 a.m., when Dr. Burr R. McKnight will preach the Easter sermon, and special music will be presented by the First Church Vested Choir and Soloists, under the direction of Edwin Lewis, organist and director of music.

Sailors Master Bargaining Art In Foreign Ports

Using Cigarettes And Other Items,
U. S. Sailors Reap 100 Per Cent Profits

NAPLES, April 16.—(Delayed)—(INS)—If the U. S. agency for disposing some 27 billion dollars worth of American property abroad knows half as much about trading as the ordinary sailor, the American public would have far less to pay in taxes during the next few years.

Our disposal agency gets about 10 per cent of the value of the goods we have to sell. The sailor usually manages to make at least 100 per cent on every deal.

When you see our Navy boy on a barge in port, he may seem to be scattering his dough to the four winds, and often he is doing that. But don't imagine that he is a chump. Probably what he is lavishing is just some of the excess profits made by shrewd bargaining with other nationalities everywhere.

The Bluejackets can start off with a carton of cigarettes and wind up with a ten-ton truck. He can find a gal in every port.

Ignores Gals And Cash

Here in Naples, for example, he ignores both the gals and the cash, concentrating instead on cigarettes. He pays 50 cents a carton for the smokes aboard ship and, of course, he is not supposed to take those cigarettes off ship—but somehow he manages to do it.

This correspondent saw a young sailor from the U.S.S. Missouri enter a first-class women's shop.

The sailor could not speak Italian and the girl behind the counter could not speak English.

Indicating a pair of women's gloves marked to sell for 300 lira, he shook his head and held up two fingers. A flood of excited Italian from the girl drew only a smile and shrug from the boy. Then he pulled a package of cigarettes from his jumper and, though the woman wanted two packs of cigarettes, he walked out with the gloves at his price of a single pack.

The sailor knows where to get at least 300 lira instead of the official 225 for the American dollar which he is not supposed to take ashore. But he does not bother about money matters, so long as he has cigarettes, candy, chewing-gum, a pencil, a fountain pen—or almost anything else American, for that matter.

Olmsted Field Has Fine Safety Record

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., April 19.—(INS)—Olmsted field is a safe post for flyers, according to an accident report issued today by the Middletown Air Technical Service command.

"Olmsted Field's aircraft accident rate was less than half of the overall AAF rate in the period from September, 1945, to February, 1946," the public relations office reported.

Whereas the national crack-up ratio was 57 per 1000 flying hours, the rate was 23 per 1000 flying hours at Olmsted field, or about one accident for every 4000 hours of flight, it was stated.

Babson Can't Understand Radio Broadcasters Fears

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 19.—I cannot understand why there is so much pessimism regarding the world in general. There is little justification for much of the fear which radio broadcasters are putting out over the air.

We hear much talk that the new World Organization is to be a failure. All impartial evidence is to the contrary. It is succeeding wonderfully. The very fact that all the discussions are in the open for the entire world to hear is of itself a great forward step. It makes a bad impression to read of these U. N. squabbles; but it is much better to have all discussions "on top of the table."

There is much criticism that any one of the five great powers can veto measures; but this works to the advantage of the United States or England as well as to Russia. Besides, there are so many good things which the U. N. can do, upon which they all are in agreement, they had better forget other matters for the present. World peace will never be attained by mere majority votes. They must be unanimous to truly hold and succeed.

What About World War III?

Of course, wars are not at an end. There will be more wars and there may be another world war; but there is nothing in sight today which makes it probable. The atom bomb is more likely to insure peace than to bring about war. This present talk about war with Russia should stop. It is largely to help columnists sell their wares.

I believe we should give the atom secret to the U. N. The peace possibilities of atomic energy are so great, atomic studies should be encouraged by all nations with the freest interchange of scientific knowledge. Nations never go to war when they are prosperous. Atomic energy possesses the power to make every nation prosperous. Hence, I am an optimist on world affairs. We all should work for the Four Freedoms—both internationally and domestically. We, however, can have freedom of speech in our own neighborhood without forcing ourselves into every home. A truly "good neighbor" policy requires getting the good will and confidence of all who live on our street. This cannot be secured by forcing ourselves into any home until we are invited.

The same principle applies to nations. I wish all nations would let our people roam about their countries and would each year exchange 5,000 students with us. But such an exchange should not be forced or bought with money. We cannot make anyone like us by our being "tough". Other nations are trying out economic and social experiments called "Communism" or "Socialism". We should let them do so in their own way—with or without the help of our visitors or writers. Likewise, we are trying out an economic and social experiment called "Free Enterprise". It is up to each reader of this column to help make this American system a success with no interference from abroad.

Great Experiments

Only the future can tell which of the above systems will ultimately win out; but each should be given a fair chance to succeed if it can. My own feeling is that there may be a happy medium between Communism and Capitalism. Certainly, no World War III is needed to settle the question. In fact, the real answer can be found only during an era of world peace.

Yes, we have much for which to be thankful. Although very "noisy", yet international conditions are safer today than ever before. The U. N. will succeed; the much despised "veto power" may be an assurance for peace. Let us first be tough with our own people and discipline them—that is, let us be tough and discipline ourselves—as individuals. This will be the best sign of the much needed spiritual awakening for which so many of us are praying.

Coming To Close

April will see the end of the four Hi-Y club meetings in the city. David Gatrall, boys' director of the Y. M. C. A., announced today.

Following two more sessions this month, the clubs of Ben Franklin, George Washington and the Senior high school, will hold an election of officers for the year's activities and then adjourn for the summer.

Wednesday May 1, newly elected presidents of the four organizations will accompany Mr. Gatrall to the Beaver Falls meeting of the central west district Hi-Y clubs. At this meeting there will be an installation of officers for the district.

Union high school plans to wind up their activities with a dinner dance at The Castleton hotel. This is the big social event of the school and elaborate plans are being laid for the occasion. No definite date has been set yet.

MANAGEMENT KEY TO GOOD PASTURE

Efficient utilization of pasture while it is at its best, as practiced by leading dairy farmers, denotes good management. Different types of pastures often require different methods of handling, particularly as to the time of starting the grazing season.

Give the grass a chance to make some top and root growth, and this gets set for the summer. Until grass grows to 3 or 4 inches, it is little more than colored water, and contains very little nourishment.

But, turning the cows out too late wastes grass as farmers have found. The rank growth of bluegrass can smother and crowd out the white clover which applies free nitrogen to the bluegrass pasture and keeps up its productivity and protein content.

Sometimes, the pasture-feed problem can be worked out best by turning the cows out a little earlier in the season than ordinarily and saving the last of the silage for supplementing pasture in July and August.

Feeding a little hay at all times affords better utilization of washy, early grass and is always advisable.

Give Recognition To Tito Regime

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(INS)—The United States today announced its agreement to extend formal recognition to the Tito regime in Yugoslavia.

In a formal communication sent through the Yugoslav embassy in Washington, Secretary of State Byrnes informed Belgrade that in view of its recent pledge to honor its international obligations, the U. S. is prepared to accept letters of credence from Sava N. Kosanovic to be ambassador to the United States.

Acceptance of the envoy was requested by the Yugoslav government in a note dated March 1.

At the same time, the State department announced that Richard C. Patterson, Jr., who was accredited as ambassador to the government of King Peter, prior to Tito's election and the formation of the republic, will not be accredited to the Tito government.

The guinea pig is not from Guinea and is not a pig. It is a South American cavy, distinctly related to the rabbit.

South Disgruntled But Not Yet Ready To Vote Republican

JACKSON, Miss., April 19.—(INS)—Even the court jester occasionally is permitted to come up with a suggestion for the royal sages—so here goes:

Of late, many pundits in politics and press have predicted the South will go Republican soon.

At first glance, such prognosticating seems well founded, for there's no doubt that the South is somewhat sick of its role as the dependable but forgotten son of the Democratic party, while the North remains the constant prodigal for whom the calf is always being fatted.

Also, the South was scarcely ever very enthusiastic about the new deal, and seldom loath to speak its mind about that particular offspring of the Jacksonian party.

Yet, after six weeks of shooting the breeze with folks in some seven deep Dixie states, this correspondent would be willing to wager his wife's last pair of nylons that the South isn't even about to go Republican—yet.

Why? You'll have to figure that one out. I can only tell you how I reached that conclusion.

Blither On F. D. R. alities

At first, after listening in pool room, drug store and business office, it seemed a cinch for a G. O. P. grand slam, come election time. Everywhere there was bitterness toward the domestic policy hangovers of the late President Roosevelt's administration. Democratic foreign policies drew some criticism, but not so much.

That bitterness was almost brutally vocal when it concerned itself with discussion of those people in Mr. Truman's camp who have been kept over from the president's predecessor.

You heard it everywhere from Richmond, Virginia, to Jackson, Mississippi, and at every whistlestop in between.

They didn't like the "pinks in the party." They didn't like the F. E. P. C. element. They didn't like the anti-polit tax people. They resented being taken for granted as "The Solid South."

Many a man said, "The best thing that could happen to the South would be for it to go Republican, just once. Then the Democratic party would make up and pay some attention to it."

Vote Democratic Though

But then, like the soldiers who damn their own army but still fight the enemy, such men would say they planned to vote the Democratic ticket—again—unless...

Here in Jackson, the Clarion-Ledger has strongly criticized many administration moves, yet it said editorially the other day:

"Election of representative B. Carroll Reese, of Tennessee, as chairman of the Republican national committee was construed by some observers as a bid for southern support, especially the support of southern Conservatives. If that was one of its prime purposes, it failed."

The paper went on to say that southern observers believe Reese's election was a victory for reactionary and isolationist elements within the Republican party, and stressed that the South wants no part of that sort of business.

Finally the editorial concluded its scolding scolding of the G. O. P. family by scathingly agreeing with Senator Morse's statement that the "Republican national committee will re-elect Harry Truman in spite of everything he is doing to defeat himself."

Thus it combined a not-too-subtle slap at Truman with the obvious implication that it still would support him, as things now stand.

Garden Notes

By Lewis C. Dayton, County Agent

ARRANGE GARDEN TO GET GREATEST VOLUME OF CROPS

For greatest convenience in plowing, fitting and cultivating a rectangular or square plot affords the best arrangement for the home vegetable garden. Because of the world-wide food situation the home garden assumes perhaps greater importance this year than ever before.

Here are some practical suggestions on garden arrangement. Plant in rows running lengthwise, space corn, peas, beans, peppers, cabbage, tomatoes, and similar crops in wide rows 2 1/2 to 3 feet apart.

Space beets, carrots, lettuce, onions, spinach, endive, radishes, and similar crops in close rows 15 to 20 inches apart. This permits wheel-hoe or hand cultivation.

Practice level cultivation. Do not plant in furrows, or ridges, or on elevated hills. Practice succession cropping (midsummer and fall crops to follow spring crops).

In small hand-cultivated gardens practice inter-cropping or companion cropping (rows of quickly maturing crops between rows of later maturing vegetables).

The smaller the area the more necessary it is to have a definite plan plotted on paper. A plan will assist in making the best use of the space available and the economic purchase of seed.

Plans will vary according to amount of space, size of family, and differences in individual likes and dislikes. Take into consideration the individual preferences of different members of the family, if space and time permit, for stimulating greater interest in the garden project among the whole family.

Factory Smoke Drive Planned In Five Cities

Pittsburgh Smoke Stacks Emit 67,000 Tons Of Soot Each Year, It Is Found

CHICAGO — (INS) — Campaigns against the smoke nuisance are resorted in several cities by the American Municipal Association.

Pittsburgh discovered that its smoke stacks release 67,000 tons of soot every year. This amounts to 500 pounds for every house and lot in the community. The city is now enforcing an ordinance similar to one adopted in St. Louis where all stacks must be equipped with consuming devices if smokeless fuel is not used.

The mayor of St. Louis has written to 14 railroads and 40 industrial concerns urging co-operative effort and the exchange of smoke control information. Initial progress has been made in the railroads where six coal burning switch engines have been replaced with diesels.

West Coast Control
On the west coast, where wartime industrial expansion has put new emphasis on smoke-control, Los Angeles county recently bolstered its smoke abatement law with a new regulation.

Chicago's enlarged smoke inspection staff tagged 114 smoke inspection violators during January alone. A $5 fine for first offenders is standard. Chicago's municipal combustion engineer blames railroads for 25 percent of the city's annual $35,000,000 smoke damage.

Birmingham, Ala., hopes to lessen its smoke nuisance by improving combustion methods on home heating units. In Indianapolis, an 11-man smoke control board has been created and the appointment of a full time combustion engineer is pending, while in Youngstown, O., the municipal smoke-abatement committee has called in a team of engineers to study means of eliminating smoke in that city.

House Recess May Have Effect On Housing Bill

House And Senate At Odds On Subsidy Provisions Of Veterans Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—The cooling-off period provided by the current house recess was seen today as offering a chance to save subsidy provisions of the veterans emergency housing bill.

Senate and house conference on the measure failed to reach an agreement Thursday because of the adamant refusal of house conferees to accept the subsidy, and further discussions were postponed until after the house vacation.

The house group went to conference fresh from administering a hearing to subsidy provisions in the veterans control extension act.

Accounting in part for their position, therefore, was the embarrassment involved in asking the house to do an immediate about-face in favor of housing subsidies.

As passed by the house several weeks ago, the bill introduced by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) at the request of Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt was amended to include only authority for ceiling prices on sales of new homes.

The 600 million dollar fund for incentive subsidies to increase production of building materials was removed from the measure, as was a provision for ceilings on existing homes and building lots.

The senate last week restored the subsidy fund and inserted a section committing the government to guarantee a market for pre-fabricated houses and new types of building materials.

Philly Coach Held In Auto Fatality

Benny Culp, 30, Baseball Coach For Phils, Killed Man With Auto, Flew Scene

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—(INS)—Benny Culp, who was promoted to the coaching staff of the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday, surrendered to police today three hours after fleeing from the spot where his automobile fatally injured a 70-year-old man in the Tacony section.

"I became panicky—so panicky that I didn't know what to do," the 30-year-old ball-player told police in confessing his car struck Lawrence W. Becker, a night watchman. The victim died in Frankford hospital a few hours later.

Culp told police that "I intended to go for help after the accident but found myself going home."

He appeared at a police station as patrolmen were searching garages for the hit-run car. Several witnesses to the accident who noted the license number, told police the driver had emerged from his automobile after striking the victim, dragged him to the sidewalk, and then drove off again.

Culp was a former reserve catcher for the Phillies.

Navy Divers Get Buried Treasure In Bay Of Tokyo

TOKYO, April 19.—(INS)—Silver bars valued at $36,000 were recovered today by U. S. navy divers from Tokyo Bay, where they had been dumped by Japanese army officers to elude discovery by the allies.

More than 100 bars of the purest silver worth more than $60,000, have been recovered to date in the treasure cache search.

However, Lt. Col. R. Carleton, directing the operation, debunked earlier claims that the treasure trove was worth two billion dollars.

Carleton said no platinum has been recovered from the bay, only silver, which will not amount to more than a fraction of the original estimate.

Navy Lieut. Henry Maul of Roselle Park, N. J. in charge of nine divers assigned to the project, said the diving was a "tough job because the treasure spot is buried under two feet of mud."

Youngstown Keeps Daylight Time

YOUNGSTOWN, April 19.—It will be daylight saving time for Youngstown in 1946.

Emergency legislation offered by Councilman Harry H. Jacobs to repeal the city's wartime daylight saving law failed to receive support necessary for approval at a special meeting of city council Wednesday night.

The measure, which would have blocked by Councilman John W. Barber and George L. Stove.

As a result of council's action, clocks will be moved ahead one hour at two a. m. Sunday, April 28, and "fast time" will be in effect until the last Sunday in September.

Five councilmen favored repeal of the daylight saving time law. Six affirmative votes, however, are necessary for approval of emergency legislation.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS)—The National Guard Bureau today admitted having counted its chickens before they hatched in announcing acceptance by states of troop allotments.

Spokesmen disclosed that eight out of the sixteen states listed on March 25 as having accepted their peacetime militia quotas made an announcement and still are in the throes of indecision.

These states are: Arizona, Arkansas, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Vermont.

However, two additional states—Michigan and Oklahoma—assertedly have said "yes" unconditionally to accepting troops allotted them.

These states and the District of Columbia have also: Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Georgia, Montana, Tennessee, Texas and Wyoming.

More acknowledgment that letters sent early in February authorizing tentative state allotments were received was disclosed as the reaction of South Dakota, Virginia, Washington and North Dakota.

Red Sox Sweep Three Game Series With Washington

Beantowners At Top Of Race In American League

Experts May Have Been Right In Picking Red Sox As 1946 "Dark horses"

NEW YORK, April 19.—(INS)—An application of timely power combined with pitching that has ranged from fair to fine has enabled the Boston Red Sox to take over the leadership in the American league with three straight.

Those observers who picked the Red Sox as possible dark horse contenders for the pennant could point today to the fact that in sweeping their series at Washington the current leaders have proved, among other things, that they can make runs.

Harris Looks Good
They won by only 3 to 1 yesterday, but that gave them a total of 22 for the three games against 10 for the Senators.

The Sox also got their best hurling in the series finale when Mickey Harris came through with a six-hit performance.

The Chicago Cubs simultaneously made it a clean sweep of their three games with Cincinnati, although held to four hits yesterday in winning by 4 to 2. A three-run error on a dropped fly by Ed Lukon helped them to their win. Grady Hatton homered for the Reds.

Cleveland, the other club which had won two in a row in the American league, idled yesterday, while the New York Yankees climbed back upon the winning bandwagon against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Johnny Lindell hit a two-run homer for the Yankees in an 8 to 1 victory hurled by Al Gettel. Buddy Rosar spoiled a shutout for Gettel with a homer in the fifth.

Cards Trim Pirates
At Benton hurled the champion Detroit Tigers to a 6 to 1 win over the St. Louis Browns, who made their run on a homer by Johnny Lucadello.

The St. Louis Cardinals won behind Howie Pollet, 6 to 2, over the Pittsburgh Pirates, with Stan Musial hitting a homer for the winners. Ralph Kiner belted one for the losers with one on for their only two runs of the game.

KEN BEEGLE TO DISPLAY TALENT HERE SATURDAY

Hundreds of men, women and young folk who are interested in the outdoors, and more particularly in shooting, will assemble at 3 p. m. Saturday, at the farm of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association along the Harbor-Pulaski road to witness Ken Beegle, New Kensington, one of the nation's most expert shooters, exhibit his ability. Beegle will be accompanied by Mrs. Beegle who will assist him in the demonstration and also by Virgil Richards, Beegle and Richards are representatives of the Remington Arms company. Richards has given half a dozen exhibitions here, mostly when the field trials were held at the Fair Grounds. The trio are being brought here by the Lawrence County Sportsman's association.

Everybody Welcome
According to Delbert Porter, secretary of the association, a loud speaker's system has been set up in order that the crowd may be kept fully informed as to the kind of gun or rifle and the calibre of the latter is used. The shots will be explained and in addition members, and non-members who so there, will see the progress that has been made on the ranges and traps.

The Lawrence County Sportsman's association proposes to erect a club-house on the farm, and later the Shenando river frontage will be so improved that there will be good boating and no doubt there will be many casting events staged when everything at the farm is completed.

Ted Lach Back From The Pacific

Ted Lach, one of the city's best young golfers, has returned to New Castle, following his discharge from service with the U. S. Marine Corps. He has been staying with his father in Indiana, since last January, when he was released from service, but returned to New Castle a few weeks ago. He saw service in the Pacific Theater.

Ted, who has competed in several of the National Public Links tournaments, expects to start in again where he left off to answer Uncle Sam's call, and will make things interesting for the best there are on local fairways this summer.

Church Golfers Ready To Start

Twelve Teams In League This Year, Will Play At Castle Hills Course

New Castle church golf league captains and officials held a final meeting last night and decided to get under way at Castle Hills Thursday, May 2, with 12 teams in the league. John Cartwright, president, conducted the meeting.

The two new teams are Temple Israel and St. Mary's. Starting time for the league will be from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock, deadline.

Membership Cards
Each captain present last night received membership cards for his players. All players in the league must have membership cards in their possession the night of the first matches.

Interest in the league this year has been heightened by the return of quite a number of servicemen, who are star golfers. The teams will all be stronger this year.

Player Lists In
Charles Ward, secretary, is busy making out the 1946 schedule. Morgan Jones was elected as a member of the handicaps committee last night, along with Fred Scheppel and Newell Kelly.

Player lists were turned in last evening to the secretary, although other names may be added as the season progresses. Larry Gramling, manager at Castle Hills, was present at the meeting and gave a fine talk to the men.

TECHNICAL 'KAYO' FAILS TO DAUNT BUTLER FIGHTER

Having decided Buzz Barringer of Youngstown March 12, Ray Prebbs of Butler returned to the Arena ring with Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, as his opponent and lost by a technical kayo after Gibbons dropped him with a right to the jaw.

In the third round, Undaunted by the defeat, Ray will return Monday night to box Ray Smith of New Kensington in one of the eight amateur bouts, according to the Jefferson A. C.

Ray put up a game fight but couldn't stand up under the left punches Gibbons delivered but he may do all right against Smith, a newcomer here.

The main bout Monday night will find Don De Genthier of Pittsburgh opposed to Ike Bell, brother of Tommy Bell of Youngstown. It will be Ike's initial bout here. Another brother, Shelton, boxed here several times.

The semi-final will find Carl Tomizer of New Kensington and Chester Brysoka of Pittsburgh, heavyweights, letting loose a batch of swings and it would not be surprising were one or the other dropped for a count.

Battling Lapski, Larry Polak, Mike DiUrba have fought here and pleased the crowd while the first appearance of Walt Welen of Butler vs Young Britton of Beaver Falls, 175-pounders, is awaited.

In all, there will be eight three-round bouts under Amateur Athletic Union regulations, the first of which will begin at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

Six-Day Bike Riders Are Back

CHICAGO, April 19.—(INS)—The six-day bike riders are back! Blacked out under the exigencies of war, the sport of sudden spills and prize-money sprints has emerged in incorporated form on a nationwide scale.

And if auspicious previews have anything to do with the final result, this whitest of all white elephants looks to cash in mightily on the spending desires of the postwar sports fan.

Led by the dean of pedal-pushers, Torchy Peden, 34 of the world's top-orchers have assembled in Chicago for the first six-day event in four years. The affair will get under way at Chicago Coliseum ten days from today, but proceedings had their official launching Wednesday night at a party thrown by the backers.

Lone ex-GI slated to start when a Penn State lacrosse team opens a 10-game schedule against Army on Saturday is 27-year-old "Wild Bill" Hollenbach of Allentown. Hollenbach was a letter winner in 1943.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND
TOMMY YARUSZ, light heavyweight, of Monaca, will unquestionably come very close to winning the championship some day, but not until he decides to sustain punching rallies that he starts, instead of rocking his opposition to a point of dizziness—then walking away. This is what Frank B. Ward, Sports Editor of the Youngstown Vindicator, wrote following Yarusz 10-round win over Cuban Bobby Giles. Ward reported that Yarusz punched the daylight out of Giles—had him on the floor once for a count of eight—then Giles went 19 rounds. "That wasn't an outstanding accomplishment beating the almost defenseless Giles, but in doing it Yarusz showed more class than any young light-heavyweight. Youngstown has looked upon in many a moon, Yarusz is booked to box Jerry Berthiaume of Canada in one 10-round bout Saturday night in Cleveland. LeRoy Jackson will box Phil Terranova, former world's featherweight champion, in another 10-rounder. Jimmie Dunn will handle Jackson.

Ward ended his article with a paragraph about George Chip, former world's middleweight champion. This is what he wrote: "Young fighters coming up should look to the Chip record for guidance when they are tempted to let an opponent go the route. George never asked quarter of an opponent—and he never gave quarter. That was one quality that helped more than anything else to make him the popular boxer that he was. If George could stop an opponent in one round he was stopped. Chip drew a deserved hand. He had a remarkable record. If he were fighting in his prime today George Chip would make a million dollars—and that couldn't happen to a better guy."

At three o'clock Saturday afternoon a big crowd is expected at the Lawrence County Sportsman's association farm to witness Ken Beegle in a shooting exhibition. Baseball Commissioner Albert B. Chandler has denied he ever said any player who breaks a contract in organized baseball shall be suspended five years. The denial was carried by Ed McAuley, baseball writer for The Cleveland News. Although 25,000 were expected only 12,500 showed up at the first day of the Santa Anita harness race meet. Favorites lost in six of the eight races. Speaking of Ping Pong, be it recorded that Dick Cantwell, Youngstown, outscored Joe Weber at Champion, Wis. to win the senior division. Ping Pong tournament staged at Prairie du Chene College. Cantwell won by a 4-2 margin in a best four of seven match.

New Galilee Enters County Baseball Loop

Approve Schedule At Thursday Night Session; Managers To Be Commissioners

Team managers and officials of the Lawrence County baseball loop held their last pre-season meeting last night in the Sporting Goods store and voted unanimously to take New Galilee into the league as the eighth team.

Represented by their manager, Guzzetti, the New Galilee club will be known as the New Castle "Hot Tots" and agreed to pay their franchise money to Treasurer B. N. Hanton today.

With the question of the league commissioners coming up for discussion it was the suggestion of the league secretary, Jim Martin, and the president, Alie Samuels, that the team managers act in that capacity for the season. Pointing out that the league have a better knowledge of the game and also the ground rules of the fields, it was voted that they sit as a judging board in any disputes.

Schedule Drawn Up
Complete schedule for the season was drawn up at the meeting with the managers voting in favor of an unbroken season instead of the originally planned split season. Under the new set-up, which is used by all the minor league teams, games would be continuous until August 9 at which time there would be playoffs for the flag. Under the system there would be three-game matches between the first and third team and the second and fourth teams. The winners would then engage in a five-game series for the pennant. This schedule is thought to promote more interest in the season and give a chance at the flag for any team in the first division.

Contract Deadline
It was also decided at the session that no new players will be signed on any of the teams after July 10. Eligibility rulings drawn up last night state that players other than outcasts must participate in at least 14 games to merit play in the series. Managers must take part in half that number of titles or seven games. Official opening of the league play will begin Sunday, May 5 with many of the teams engaging in practice clashes with other teams prior to the opening date.

Fordham and Miami are the only newcomers to Penn State's 1946 football schedule.

Former Major Leaguer Dies

Death Claims Jack Quinn, Major League Hurler For More Than 25 Years

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 19.—(INS)—Jack Quinn, major league baseball pitcher for more than 25 years, died Wednesday night in the Good Samaritan hospital at Pottsville. He was 60 years old.

The veteran athlete succumbed after a three months' illness.

His big league career started in 1909 when he pitched for the old New York Highlanders, later known as the Yankees. During the quarter century of playing, he was a member of the Philadelphia Athletics and Cincinnati Reds, hurling in the American National, Federal, Pacific coast and International leagues.

Fish Paradise Opens May 17

HARRISBURG, April 19.—(INS)—A spokesman for the state fish commission reported today that "fishermen's paradise" on Spring creek near Bellefonte would be open from May 17 to July 20. Anglers may catch 10 fish daily but only two trout may be killed, the spokesman pointed out.

RE-AFFILIATION BEFORE COUNCIL AT 'Y' TONIGHT

Members of the Sportsman's Council of Lawrence county will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. to decide whether or not the council is to re-affiliate with the Northwest division of the Federation of Pennsylvania sportsmen. Each of the delegates to the meeting will be asked to vote on the question, according to George Bollinger, secretary of the council.

The Sportsman's Council of Lawrence county is composed of sportsmen's clubs throughout the county. In order that the question be settled at this time each club should have representation at the meeting, Bollinger stated.

Umpires Will Meet Tonight

Tonight at the "Y" the Lawrence county umpires will have a meeting for the purpose of getting organized for the 1946 baseball season. Leo W. Hill, president, will have charge of the meeting that starts at 8 o'clock.

All young men in the county who would like to become umpires are asked to be present. Here is a chance for a few men to become "big league" umpire in the future if they have the ability to call them.

Sweden Today Garden Of Eden In Zone Of Want

Correspondent Finds Sweden
Oasis Of Plenty In A Continent Of Misery

LONDON, April 19. (INS)—Sweden today is the Garden of Eden of Europe.

This correspondent spent 24 hours in Stockholm recently while accompanying former President Herbert Hoover on his famine investigation tour of Europe.

After witnessing the distress and despair of such countries behind the "iron curtain" as Poland, Czechoslovakia and Finland, and experiencing the discomforts of postwar life in London, Paris and Rome, Sweden appears like an oasis of brightness and plenty in a continent of misery.

Enjoying the highest standard of living in Europe today, the Swedes are living a pleasant, comfortable life primarily as a result of having managed to escape direct participation in the world war.

Nowhere in Europe can so many good things be purchased for so little money as in Sweden at present.

Shops Are Filled

The shops are filled with food, clothes and household goods. The difference between Stockholm and such luxury spots as Madrid and Monte Carlo is that the good things to be had in Sweden are within financial reach of the working man.

The average working man in Stockholm earns the equivalent of about $50 weekly. He can purchase a ready-made suit in the most fashionable department store in town for $25. He can get a good dinner in a popular restaurant for 50 cents. A box of the best candy in town will cost him $1.50 a pound.

He can buy his girl a pair of pure silk stockings for $2.75, and purchase her as many as he wishes. There is no clothing rationing at all in Sweden.

The forbidden fruit in this Garden of Eden is European power politics. By clinging stubbornly to neutrality the country managed to keep out of the war. It hopes to remain out of any future conflict.

Fear Russia

With the defeat of Germany, the primary concern of Sweden in the field of foreign affairs is Russia. Politically they are fearful Moscow may attempt to include Sweden in what the Soviet Union considers its sphere of influence. Economically they are worried by indications that Russia resents the high standard of living which exists in Sweden.

The writer was informed by a highly authoritative diplomatic source that the Soviet minister in Stockholm stated openly that Russia wishes to see the standard of living reduced in Sweden.

One reason is said to be the Soviet government's fear that such high standard of living in a neighboring country gives Russian travelers the impression that conditions in a capitalist society outside Russia are much better than within the country under the Soviet system.
